Tax Collections Good

Finances Sound and Town Growing At Good Pace

The Town of Vulcan remains in a healthy financial condition and completed 1958 with an operating surplus of $1,101. The financial statement was quickly approved at the annual town meeting held Monday night, Feb. 9, with an attendance of about 20 ratepayers, including councillors.

Notable was the fact that in 1958 uncollected taxes were reduced by some $3,450, from $17,483 at Jan. 1, to $14,133 at Dec. 31. Tax collections during the year amounted to $88,197, with $3,160 allowed in discounts. The tax levy in 1958 was $86,986. Total assessment increased from $1,382,000 to $1,417,000 despite a new general assessment which resulted in older buildings decreasing in valuation. Total revenue during the year was $130,971.

Increased operating costs of most departments were largely offset by increased revenue. Government grants increased from $12,824 to $14,203, sale of lands from $1,710 to $4,315, and tax collections were up $6,254 over 1957 collections, according to figures given by finance chairman Councillor M. R. Morrison.

Other reports given showed a capital expenditure of $1,806 for the fire department for eleven repairs and new hose; expenditure of $7,874 in the police department, of which $6,504 was for salaries; capital expenditure of $7,110 on the waterworks covering the cost of a new well, sandblasting the tower, trenching and supplies; $999 sewer expenditure for trenching and materials; public works capital expenditure of $9,793 for gravel, oiling and paving of streets, $6,236 for 5 1/2 blocks of new sidewalk, and $2,541 for culverts and gravel for maintenance. Expenditure on the cemetery was $1,147 and on parks $1,000. Sinking fund expenses were $1,351 against receipts of $300.

Mayor's Report

In his report to the ratepayers, Mayor William Munro found particular satisfaction in the low amount ($14,133) of unpaid taxes at the end of the year. This compares very favorably with other towns and cities, he said, some of which found nearly 50% of their taxes still unpaid at the end of the year. The mill rate was held at 50 mills in 1958, yielding $35,937 for school requisition, $5,464 for hospital requisition and $27,644 for municipal purposes.

Progress has been made in other directions, too, the mayor said. A number of new business places have been opened, including the seed cleaning plant and funeral home, and the curling club now has an artificial ice plant. The large number of beautiful homes being built each year shows that people are happy and satisfied to make their homes in Vulcan.

In regards to the site for a Home for the Aged, the Mayor said the council had been trying to co-operate with the provincial government in providing a site but some difficulty had been encountered. The council recommended a certain site, with the town to pay 50% of the cost, carry the utilities to the property and see that the surroundings were "spruced up," but this site was considered unsatisfactory by the representative of the Department of Welfare, who did approve another site which would have meant the town giving away 40 surveyed building lots with a market value of $8,000, building lots which will be needed for residential construction in the near future. Another site in the same general area has been proposed and a meeting is being arranged to discuss the matter further.

The contract with the water tower company calls for another coat of paint on the tower and the town will insist that this paint job be done this year.

Services were generally well maintained during the year, said Mayor Munro, and progress was made in the matter of new sidewalks and street improvements.

Fire Chief Lundy Findlay, present at the meeting, asked that consideration be given the building of a new fire hall this year. Urgently needed is space for the thawing and drying of fire hose.

The perennial problem of dogs running loose in town and damaging property was again the subject of discussion, with council asking for suggestions on how the situation should be handled.

D. D. McQueen was the elected chairman of the meeting and Mrs. E. M. Schrag acted as secretary.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

The Brucellosis vaccination campaign for the fall and winter season is just now completed with the spring tour to come yet, which will be done in March and early April, providing the roads are not impassable.

Few, we believe, fully realize the magnitude of this job, which, under ordinary circumstances cannot begin before Oct. 15, and should be fully completed by Jan. 15. The program just completed has taken sixty-three days of concentrated effort on the part of your supervisor, the veterinarian and his helper, and a lot of team work between the farmers and ranchers and the above mentioned personnel.

This work has been further complicated by the fairly recent movement of cattle for feeding purposes, from farm to farm, farm to feed lot, and from farms and ranches to the exporters trucks.

When the spring vaccination is completed we will have done five full years since the County of Vulcan No. 2, was declared a restricted area for the control of Brucellosis, during that time a total of 24,700 heifer calves were vaccinated and protected against the dread disease as far as modern science is able to protect them.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture has already started some Brucellosis Control areas across the country, wherein all cows are blood tested, with compensation being paid for re-actors, and they are eliminated from the farms. This policy will be pursued in more and more areas across the country as fast as it is practical to do so, having in mind the availability of veterinarians to do the work.

Ordinarily a county or municipality has a vaccination program underway for a period of from five to seven years before embarking on the blood testing program.

Here Since 1903, H. Hungerbuhler Has 85th Birthday

Herman Hungerbuhler, who has farmed in the district west of Vulcan since 1903, celebrated his 85th birthday at his home Jan. 28, when a crowd of friends and old-timers gathered for a "real oldtime get-together," at his farm where he lives with two of his four daughters, Sue and Lili.

Mr. Hungerbuhler, who was a butcher by trade in his native Switzerland, and later in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and his wife, who passed away in 1943, came to western Canada on a harvest excursion train in 1903.

He recalls that Calgary then was a town with a population of about 6,000. Mr. and Mrs. Hungerbuhler had made a brief stopover in Saskatchewan, where they were to settle on 160 acres of land offered free by the federal government, but as it was blizzarding there while crocuses were blooming in Alberta, they decided to come to

Jim O'Reilly Legion President

Jim O'Reilly was elected president of the Vulcan Branch No. 21, Canadian Legion for the year 1959, at the annual general meeting held in the Legion club rooms Wednesday evening, Feb. 4. He succeeds Clifford McAskill.

Other officers elected were E. W. Sparks, honorary president; Charles Fulton, first vice-president; Roy McLennan, second vice-president; Ray Wellman, Harris Matlock, Mel Eumor, Harry Stoddard and Ted Howlett, executive committee members. Trustees for the year are Montie Findlay, Colin McInnes and Clifford McAskill.

The financial statement, which showed that the finances of the branch were in good condition, was read by D. D. McQueen. Mr. McQueen was re-elected as auditor for 1959.

The election and installation of officers was conducted by past president R. C. R. Munro.

At the Electrical Fair

mories last Friday. Mrs. Norma Darling, Home Economist from Calgary Power Ltd., is illustrating the finer points of this homemaker's dream. At right is Mrs. J. Marshall receiving an electric fry pan for entering the oldest electrical bill in the competition. Mike Maheu of the power company is making the presentation.

Annual Agricultural Short Course February 16-17

The annual two-day agricultural short course, sponsored by the Vulcan District Board of Trade, will be held next Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 16-17, in the IOOF Hall, commencing with the annual luncheon of the Board of Trade.

Guest speaker at the luncheon will be C. L. Sibbald, manager of Catell Food Products, Lethbridge. Excellent programs for both men and women at the short course have been arranged and are detailed elsewhere in this issue of the Advocate. The programs start at 2:00 p.m., both days.

Mr. Hungerbuhler recalls that he and his partner, the late Silas Manuel who passed away last year at the age of 93, walked from High River to Nanton, carrying a suitcase and a six-shooter—the latter in case they should meet any hostile Indians. "We met some Indians, alright," Mr. Hungerbuhler recalls, "but they were friendly." Prairie grass at that time, he says, was as high as the horses' bellies.

Winters were long and cold, the pioneer noted. In 1906 and 1907 two feet of snow blanketed the prairie from October until late spring and temperatures of 50 below were not uncommon. "There wasn't one Chinook," he said, "and it was all the worse when I was working outdoors as a lumberjack in order to raise money to buy a horse or a plough for farming operations."

The veteran farmer has never regretted his decision to come to the new, strange and unsettled land. Through the years he has continued to improve his farm, renovating the house and increasing his land holdings.

Besides his four daughters, Mr. Hungerbuhler has seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Three sons passed away years ago.

THE WEATHER

Sub-zero weather has prevailed for the past week, with a low of 20 below reported. Highways are icy and hazardous.

Jim O'Reilly Legion President

Pioneer Farmer Of Milo Passes

Marvin George Hulbert, aged 77, died suddenly at his home in Milo on Thursday, Feb. 5, 1959.

Born in Illinois, he came to the Milo district in 1918 and farmed there until retiring in 1947. He was a member of the Alberta Wheat Pool for many years.

Predeceased by his wife, Eva May, in January, 1956, he is survived by several nieces and nephews in Illinois and Iowa.

Funeral services were held from the Milo IOOF Hall on Feb. 10, at 2 p.m., with Rev. D. A. Sharpe of Vulcan officiating. The Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and interment was made in the Milo cemetery.

Campaign Collects $2,050

Red Cross Society Branch Reports Successful Year

The annual meeting of the Vulcan Branch of the Red Cross was held in the Legion Hall on Friday, Jan. 30.

Due to the poor attendance the officers agreed to stand for the next year. They are: President, Mrs. W. A. Fitzpatrick; vice-president, Mrs. G. C. Collier; secretary, Mrs. C. S. McAskill; treasurer, Mrs. A. G. Saxby; swimming and water safety, D. S. Paris; finance, campaign manager, D. S. Paris; blood clinic, Mrs. R. W. Fulton; work room, Mrs. W. S. Hill; crippled children, Mrs. B. W. Banks.

The financial report showed $2,050.75 collected in the Vulcan district for the Red Cross drive in 1958. In 1958 there were 350 children who took swimming lessons. Three girls and one boy took instructors courses.

The work room reported that 299 pieces of knitting and sewing were sent from Vulcan to Calgary headquarters. Mrs. Hill would like to thank the ladies who so faithfully sewed and knitted last year.

College Weekend At Church of Christ

Last weekend was College Weekend at the Vulcan Church of Christ, with the students from the Alberta Bible College in attendance. On Saturday evening they were entertained at the home of Jack Deans and were served a very handsome supper there. Also in attendance were Victor Deal, Patsy Robertson and Warden Budd.

Sunday morning the students had complete charge of the service. This was under the direction of Tony Pearce, associate minister of the Vulcan Church and also a junior at the college. Special numbers were brought by the students in the form of a male trio and a solo, the latter rendered beautifully by Miss Aileen Case. The sermon was preached by Allan Dunbar, a sophomore at the school.

There was a good crowd on hand in the evening for a very special service. This was the time when Tony Pearce, associate minister, was ordained into the ministry and set apart to preach the gospel.

The very moving service was conducted by Frank Dann, minister at Vulcan, who also delivered the charge to the candidate. The ordained address was delivered by Preston Wilkins, minister of the Tuxedo Park Church in Calgary. Miss Case sang the hymn, "Take My Life and Let It Be" and Edward Benoit, minister at Nanton, gave the ordination prayer. Mr. Pearce was then welcomed into the Christian ministry by the elders of the congregation and at the close of the service a period of fellowship was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

On Monday evening there was a good crowd on hand for the Young people's meeting. The singing was led by Caroline Haga and the devotion was given by Tony Pearce. An activity period followed and all joined in the various projects on hand. Coffee and cookies were served by the social committee.

Legionaires Lose Close Game

Calgary Silver Seven hockey team last Sunday scored that many goals against six for the Vulcan Legionaires to take the 7-6 win in what was the local club's best display of the season. Both teams showed hard knocking defensive work with many end to end rushes, but Vulcan's poor shooting kept them in trouble. A puck shot from the corner glanced off Vulcan netminder Garvin's skate and proved the winning one of the afternoon.

On the score board for Vulcan were Healy, Hrabal (2), Pruden, Wright and Gorbua.

Vulcan lineup was Garvin, Buchan, Dave Mitchell, Larkins, N. Buehler, Gorbous, Wright, Pruden, Hrabal, Kehr and K. Healy.

Curlers Busy

The Harris Matlock rink of J. Wolfe, G. Atkinson and R. Wellman lost out in the Brier playoffs at Drumheller after winning two and losing two games. They dropped their two setbacks to Art Simpson, last year's southern Alberta champion, and to Geo. Menzies of Picture Butte, this year's ultimate winner, after leading in the late stages of both games.

The Elks District Bonspiel held in Vulcan on Sunday, Feb. 8, resulted in a tie between the two Banff rinks, and the two rinks from the Calgary Elks club. Each rink played four games with total points to count and there were two rinks from the lodges of Calgary, Crossfield, Banff, Okotoks and four from the host club, Vulcan.

Four rinks from Vulcan are taking part in the Twentieth Shirtsleeve Bonspiel in Lethbridge this week. Skippers of the four rinks at this popular "spiel" are F. Mensinger, N. Dumka, H. Spaeth and J. Wolfe.

The Canadian Legion Zone Curling playoffs were held in Taber on Sunday, Feb. 8, with rinks from Taber, Lethbridge, Fort Macleod and Vulcan taking part. After the day's curling was over three teams were still deadlocked for top spot: Kennedy of Fort Macleod, Kirkoff of Taber and Matlock of Vulcan, each with two wins and one loss. Lethbridge suffered three straight setbacks to be eliminated. The three contending teams will play a sudden death knock-out next Sunday again in Taber to see who advances to the Alberta Legion curling finals at Hanna later in February. Curling with H. Matlock for Vulcan are Ray Wellman, John Wolfe and Chas. Fulton.

The Vulcan Curling Club will hold another Jackpot Bonspiel on Sunday, Feb. 22, with an entry of sixteen rinks.

The Vulcan Elks Lodge will hold their annual local one-day bonspiel

New Appliances Displayed

Excellent Demonstrations At Electrical Fair Here

Last Friday afternoon and evening, Calgary Power Ltd., local appliance dealers and the Vulcan Lions Club staged an Electrical Fair and Cooking Demonstration in the local Armories. The only disappointing feature of the day was the return home, following the dazzling views of the latest in every kind of electrical appliance, to the frigid that was last year's model or the TV that is two years old or the toaster that has ten years behind it. They just don't compare.

Sub-zero temperatures and near-blizzard conditions kept attendance to the afternoon feature to about three-quarters of capacity but in the evening over 300 spectators taxed the available accommodation.

Appliance displays were set up around the edge of the floor space by several local dealers and the stage was equipped with cooking equipment and a working counter over which was a large mirror giving the viewers from the floor a good look at the progress of the cooking as it was being described.

Miss Virginia Lee, B.Sc., who was scheduled to handle the afternoon "Fashions in Food" show, was ill and another team of Home Economists, Mrs. Norma Darling and Mrs. Pat Sheehan, replaced her. During the program Mrs. Darling prepared a batch of doughnuts, a casserole, a chicken and other table items and gave an interesting account of her work showing helpful aids and demonstrating the many labor and time-saving features which could be found in kitchen appliances in the average modern home.

During a mid-afternoon recess the ladies were invited to refreshments served by the Lionettes while they wandered from one display to the other. Along with the major appliances such as ranges, refrigerators, deep-freezers, washers and dryer units were a varied list of items from cream separators, electric motors, irons, toasters, to refrigeration service displays. On the sound and visual side were all manner of radios,

F.U.A. Circulating Petition On Deficiency Grain Payments

All District 12 locals of the Farmers Union of Alberta are supporting the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool's petition for deficiency grain payments which will be presented by a mass delegation to Ottawa. Copies of the petition are now being circulated and, in addition, copies are posted in many places of business for the convenience of supporters.

The petition, addressed to the "Prime Minister and Members of the Government, Ottawa," reads as follows:

"Whereas the cost index of commodities and services used by Western Farmers is 51% higher than it was ten years ago, and

Whereas during the ten year period grain prices have declined to the extent that the purchasing power of a bushel of wheat, oats or barley is at the lowest point it has reached since the depression of the late thirties, (for example, in the ten year period wheat prices have declined 21%), and

Whereas the imbalance between costs and prices, usually referred to as the cost-price squeeze, has brought about the most serious economic conditions faced by Western grain farmers since the depression prevailing at the outbreak of World War II.

We, the undersigned, hereby petition the Government of Canada

Joseph Gerding Sr. Dies Following Lengthy Illness

Well known Vulcan district farmer and active for many years in this area as an auctioneer, Joseph William Gerding died at his home in Vulcan on Friday, Feb. 6, 1959, following a lengthy illness. He was 72 years of age.

Born in New York City, he came to Bassano in 1910 and to the Vulcan district in 1925. He retired from farming in 1954, moving into town at that time. He was a member of St. Andrew's Catholic Church, the Vulcan Branch Canadian Legion and Vulcan Elks Lodge.

Besides his wife, Anna Mary, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. W. (Eileen) Hanchuk, Lethbridge; Mrs. L. (Margaret) Shaw, Vulcan, and Mrs. N. (Norma) O'Hare, Ralston; and four sons, Joseph W. and Robert B. of Vulcan, Raymond B. of Milo and Arnold F. of Vancouver. One son, Cecil L. died overseas in 1942. Also surviving are several sisters in the United States.

Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Andrew's Church, Vulcan, on Tuesday, Feb. 10, at 10 a.m. and burial was made in the Vulcan cemetery. Pall-bearers were Leslie Shaw, Leo Spanke, William Klzula, Fred Mensinger, Roger Hubbard and Jack Crick. The Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Vulcan and Electric Power

The 20th century is characterized by the use of energy. Energy turns the wheels of industry. Its efficient use has produced, in the Western World, a great and prosperous industrial complex. Canada, one of the youngest of the industrial nations of the West, is one of the most prosperous — second only to the United States in her standard of living. One of the main reasons for Canada's position in world affairs today particularly as a trading nation, is due to her abundant energy resources.

These resources have been seized upon so that a growing nation with an expanding economy could progress and prosper. Today in Canada more low-cost energy is used per capita than any other country in the world.

Alberta is well endowed with energy resources. The province has oil — probably the world's largest deposit is to be found in the Athabasca tar sands. Coal — half of Canada's coal is to be found in Alberta. There are large natural gas deposits and water power in abundance.

All these resources produce for Albertans low-cost energy or power. Power is the flux of progress in Canada today.

Vulcan for many years has used power for its homes and places of business. However thirty-five years ago power was not put to as many worthwhile uses as it is today. But technology has provided labor saving equipment over the years that is power operated.

Vulcan has been served with power for over four decades. The Vulcan Light and Power Company Limited served the town up until Jan. 1, 1931.

Older residents of Vulcan can recall that the rates were 18c per kilowatt-hour for the first 100 kilowatt-hours and 17c per kilowatt-hour over 100 kilowatt-hours. There was a 25c per month rental charge on the meters.

In 1927 the Vulcan Light and Power Company, whose managing director was Paul Whitlock, contracted to buy power in bulk from Calgary Power. The contract stipulated that rates to customers compare with the rates Calgary Power Customers were charged.

This brought a reduction in rates to Vulcan consumers. There was a service charge of $1.00 per month and an energy charge of 10c per kilowatt-hour for the first 30 kilowatt-hours used and 5c per kilowatt-hour for the next 20. In those days domestic customers seldom used over 50 kilowatt-hours per month. Power was used mainly for lighting.

In 1931 the directors of the Vulcan Light and Power sold their company to Calgary Power. The first Franchise between the Town of Vulcan and Calgary Power was passed on March 16, 1931.

With the new Franchise came a new rate which reduced the cost of power to the town's consumers. This rate consisted of a 50c per month service charge, the first 30 kilowatt-hours at 10c per kilowatt-hour, the next 20 kilowatt-hours at 10c for 2 kilowatt-hours and all over 50 kilowatt-hours 10c for 3 kilowatt-hours.

In 1941 the franchise was renewed and another new rate was introduced. This rate had a minimum monthly charge of $2.40 net and included the first 20 kilowatt-hours; all over 20 kilowatt-hours at 1c per kilowatt-hour.

In 1953 the franchise was renewed again and the net minimum charge was reduced by 10c; all over 20 kilowatt-hours at 1 1/2c.

Today the people of the Town of Vulcan on an average are using eight times more power than they did in 1931. Then they paid approximately 3 1/2 times more per kilowatt-hour than they do now. On an average people paid just over 7c per kilowatt-hour in 1931; today the average cost to the consumer is under 2c per kilowatt-hour.

The same situation applies to commercial establishments where the cost of power to commercial consumers is approximately half of what it was in 1931. Four times as much power is being used in commercial establishments in Vulcan today.

This is the story right across Canada generally, where, in spite of inflation the cost of power has gone down over the years. However it is not so much the cost of power as the value and amount of work done by equipment, appliances and machines that are power operated.

In an H-bomb and missile war the countryman may be called on to help his city neighbor. Either — or both — may die unless there is understanding, help and co-operation.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Advocate:

Last Sunday Vulcan Legionaires played their usual afternoon hockey game and a sore spot in the game was the very poor attendance. This has been the case in all four of Vulcan's games, and it is not very gratifying to the 10 or 12 boys who work hard all winter to try and keep hockey alive in Vulcan. Last Wednesday a game was watched by 25 people which is a very poor showing for a town this size.

If I were Mr. Fan, next time I saw a player or one of the few that do follow hockey in Vulcan, I would hang my head in shame.

I would like at this time to thank Mr. N.S. for what he did on Sunday.

Editor, The Advocate:

A number of producers in the Macleod Constituency, particularly in the foothills area, have enquired about the procedure of obtaining a Wheat Board Permit because they wished to qualify for the payment ($1.00 per cultivated acre with a maximum of $200.00 per farm). A producer to qualify must be the holder of a Wheat Board Permit.

A memorandum from the Canadian Wheat Board of Jan. 26, 1959, clarifies the policy on the issuing of permits. This makes it clear that any person who produces wheat, oats, barley, rye or flaxseed, in Alberta is eligible for a permit and the Wheat Board memorandum reads as follows:

"Whether or not a producer who receives a permit book delivers grain into commercial channels is the decision of the producer himself, as there is no provision in the Canadian Wheat Board Act requiring him to do so."

It is not necessary for a farmer to write Ottawa, or his Member of Parliament, because the proper procedure for securing a permit is to make application through the local elevator agent and have the application forwarded to the Canadian Wheat Board in Winnipeg.

Federal Constituency of Macleod Lawrence E. Kindt.

While Civil Defence in Canada aims primarily at organizing Canadians to save life and to ensure the continuity of civil government, it will also provide trained workers to handle any civil disaster.

MAJORVILLE

If you are fond of rabbit stew better contact Alf Heather. About forty of the furry creatures have wintered around the feed stack in his feed lot. Mrs. Heather makes a hobby of fashioning animals from plywood for garden ornaments and among the ornaments is a mother rabbit and some baby size rabbits. These have been out all winter and whether they have acted as decoys and encouraged the others around is anyone's guess, at any rate Alf's yard has been a rabbit playground for quite some time. And speaking of rabbits a day or two ago a half grown one hopped across our garden and the coat was grey or brown, like in summer-time, so maybe spring is nearer than we know. Another sign of spring is the report that lambs have made their debut on the farm of Ole Ueland.

On the occasion of her birthday, Terry Heather, entertained a number of her friends at a skating party last weekend.

Mrs. Laura Sutherland left on Thursday for California and from there she expected to go to Florida. Mrs. Myrtle Monner accompanied Mrs. Sutherland on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Deitz and family went to Calgary last Friday to attend a performance of Ice-Capades. While in the city they were over-night guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Heather.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Voors arrived home during the week after spending the past few weeks visiting relatives in Washington, USA.

The dance at Liberty was well attended on Friday and something unusual was the number of musicians on hand to keep the feet tapping. To mention a few there were Bill Shild, Harvey Godkin, Smokey Jones, Aubrey Gore, Tooke Beckner, Cliff Hellevang and Mrs. Myrtle Lethiam. A good time was had by all.

On Saturday evening the regular weekly card party saw six tables of whist in play. Winners were: High, Mrs. Sutherland and Colin Campbell; lows, Mrs. Hugh Winch and Mr. Hodgson.

Sunday supper guests at the home of Mrs. Mabel Hagg were

Mr. and Mrs. Will Francis, Lee and Bill and Mrs. Frida Prentice. Before the dance at Liberty on Friday, supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Godkin were Mr. and Mrs. Smokey Jones and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Sukut guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy McIntyre and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Gore.

The ground hog saw his shadow on Monday and by the pattern of weather since, it is shaping for six weeks more winter. A storm that arrived through Thursday night brought snow and drifting winds that lasted all day Friday and dropped temperatures below zero. By Saturday morning the temperature was well below zero, so over-shoes will be in use for some time yet.

Live Better With Better Electrical Wiring

Electrical Living Ensures Better Living For Canadians

When Thomas Edison died in 1931, it was suggested that electrical power be shut off for one minute on the day of his funeral. Can you imagine the chaos if the suggestion had been acted upon. No telephones for urgent or emergency calls; cars piled up at busy cross streets with no traffic control lights; men and machines at a stand-still; hospital services endangered. Without signal systems, there would be no fire and police protection, no plane or train controls. It was quite obvious that we couldn't afford to be without electricity even for 60 seconds! Canadians use more electricity in their homes than any other people on earth. And consumption is more than doubling every decade. In almost all of our homes today, besides lighting, there are at least nine types of electrical appliances or "servants." You could say that nine is the very minimum required by the average Canadian family. They are all very familiar—the range, refrigerator, washer, toaster, iron, kettle, vacuum cleaner, radio and television. Most homes have many more, with 30 being nearer the mark. Large electrical servants such as water heaters and dryers, freezers and dishwashers; smaller units like clocks, fans, Hi-Fi, electric blankets, coffee makers, food mixers and sun lamps. The list is long and grows longer—70 or more at latest count.

It would seem that those who work on new ways of putting electricity to work for us must have just about figured every possible use for electricity in the home. Actually, this is just the beginning. Let's take a look at some of the exciting new developments—here or just around the corner.

Colored TV is already on the market. Today, it's expensive, tomorrow we will all enjoy color programs as well as black and white. And in the field of television there are more great advances coming up. The picture tube—which gets slimmer every year—may be done away with completely. Someday soon, we'll be able to hang thin TV screen on the walls, for "wide-screen" viewing. Magnetic tape will let us record sound and pictures to be played back at our leisure.

In the kitchen, electronics has already made its presence felt. New ranges that can cook a six-pound roast in 36 minutes, or a nine-pound turkey in one hour, a cake in three or four minutes. And nothing is lost in flavor, aroma or nutritional value.

Electro-luminescent panels may soon supply all our lighting needs. Installed on the walls and ceilings, we will be able to decorate our homes simply by controlling the intensity and color of the light transmitted by the panels.

Now coming into use in some parts of the continent is the heat pump. There is little doubt that eventually the heat pump in some form will look after both heating and cooling in the home.

The wonderful world of electricity and electronics is full of surprises. Some of these advances are still being developed, many are now on the drawing boards of our leading manufacturers. The future looks bright, the resources of a vast and important industry are harnessed to help us all Live Better—Electrically.

Let's now take a look at this industry today. In Canada, the electrical industry supplies highly skilled jobs for over 175,000 people. It is a vital part of every province and every community—enabling Canadians everywhere to enjoy its benefits. The electrical industry is diversified, with each segment having a particular place in the overall scheme. The utilities provide us with dependable, low-cost power. As a result, the typical Canadian home uses over 3700 kilowatt hours of electricity each year—or 20% more than the average U.S. household.

The electrical manufacturers supply the 70 or more electrical "servants" now available through your neighborhood appliance store. Product designs are subject to the strictest safety and efficiency testing carried out by the Canadian Standards Association. As a result, Canadians buy with confidence more major appliances, per capita, than any other people in the world. It is important to look for the C.S.A. seal of approval before buying any electrical equipment.

The electrical distributor maintains a smooth flow of materials to all parts of the nation. The electrical contractor makes the installations; the inspector gives the final safety checks.

There you have seven segments of the industry, each with a different job to do, but all helping us Live better—electrically.

Using Inadequately Wired Machines Is Common But Dangerous Practice

Improper use of small capacity, portable electrical equipment and ignorance or disregard of protective measures are responsible for several fatalities in Alberta during recent weeks, reports the Department of Industries and Labor.

Two of the electrocutions were traced to makeshift connections used in the operation of a small saw and drill. Because no three-slot receptacles were at hand, the operator in each case improvised his own connections. The three-wire cap supplied on the extension cord was replaced with a common two-way cap. When equipment became "short-circuited" there was no ground wire as intended. Expediency of using two-wire connections cost both operators their lives.

Another fatality and near-fatality resulted from careless operation of model planes. The control wire held by operators provided a perfect transmission link when the models struck high voltage power lines. Extreme caution should be exercised by model plane enthusiasts to stay well clear of power lines.

Safety regulations under The Electrical Protection Act require that all receptacles installed where there is more than normal risk of injury through shock shall be of the polarized grounding type. This type provides three points of contact for 115 volt equipment. If installation is properly made, the third contact in the receptacle is connected to ground through a low resistance medium. The same requirement applies to portable electrical equipment for commercial or industrial use.

Small capacity devices designed for domestic use only at present do not come under the foregoing regulation. Proposed revisions to the regulations governing interior wiring will require that all receptacles be of a type to provide automatic grounding of equipment frames on connection. Following this revision, all portable electrical equipment and appliances offered for sale in Alberta will require three-wire cords and attachment caps.

To insure maximum safety, electrical equipment should be used with following points always in mind:

1. Make sure that the proper type of receptacle is provided for connection of equipment. Do not change the connection cap provided so that an ordinary two-wire receptacle may be used. This will do away with the grounding wire, your protection.

2. If it is necessary to install the receptacle for supply of the equipment, make sure that it is properly installed with the grounding terminal grounded in the correct manner. Installations should be made by or under the direction of a qualified person. Error in connection may create the condition it is sought to avoid.

3. If equipment is provided with a two-wire cord and cap only, have a three-wire cord and cap installed when equipment is to be used where the operator may be in contact with ground or grounded surfaces.

4. Remember that 115 volts can be just as deadly as higher vol-tages. Treat it with respect. If there are any doubts concerning safety, consult a person qualified to give sound advice.

How easy can life be? It's a cinch you'll have more time for leisure living like this family if your home can match some of the modern appliances displayed in the cut-away home above.

Plan for Adequate Wiring

Building a new home? Make sure your plans call for a balanced electrical system—adequate for your present and future needs. We are equipped to do wiring to "Red Seal" and Medallion" standards and will gladly give you an estimate without obligation.

Select the electrical standard that suits YOUR needs

GOLD MEDALLION

When you want the best in modern electrical living—choose a Gold Medallion Home. You get distinguished, decorator-styled lighting; at least five major appliances installed, with circuits available for five more; full 'Red Seal' standard of wiring that guarantees you full Housepower.

BRONZE MEDALLION

The Bronze Medallion for better homes gives you room-by-room 'light conditioning'; at least one major appliance installed with circuits available for another five; full Housepower with 'Red Seal' standard of wiring.

Better Wiring

... is the best investment you can make when building or remodelling your home.

Sufficient circuits to handle your present appliances and any you may buy in the future, plenty of convenient wall outlets, properly placed switches—all are an investment that will pay off in satisfaction and safety.

We will be pleased to talk to you about Red Seal and Medallion standards or about any wiring problems you may have.

RED SEAL

A 'Red Seal' home provides you with a balanced electrical system—adequate for today's needs with allowance for future growth. 'Red Seal' is a minimum standard approved by the entire electrical industry, and is the least you should insist on in any home.

LUCKY YOU if you plan to move into a new home this year. Because now it's so much easier to find the kind of home you're looking for... the home where you'll Live Better—Electrically. 'Gold' and 'Bronze' Medallion homes are the finest home investment you can make. You're assured of modern comfort and convenience and the simple 'Medallion' plaque guards the resale value if you decide to move. Look for Medallion homes in the better subdivisions where you plan to live. At the very least, insist on 'Red Seal' wiring.

Ask your builder or realtor about Medallion Homes, or contact your Electric Service League. Your Electric Service League will be happy to advise you on all electrical matters, either in your present home or the one you intend to buy.

IT'S IN A CLASS BY ITSELF!

The remarkable Sex-Sal-Link—bred at the well-known J. J. Warren Poultry Breeding Farms, and hatched and sold by Swift—is a strain cross that competes favourably with any white-egg layer in use today. Already the Sex-Sal-Link has established an enviable record in official egg-laying tests, by consistently ranking among top birds entered. In one test, Sex-Sal-Link production hit 285 eggs per bird—54 more eggs than the average of all birds entered! Livability and feed efficiency have proven consistently excellent. (Tests entered include the Storrs, New York State, and Rhode Island Egg Laying Tests.)

In a side-by-side field test of random-sample birds, conducted at Swift's Research Farm, the Sex-Sal-Link outperformed one of the largest selling hybrid layers by five eggs per hen for the first nine months of laying. At the same time, livability of the Sex-Sal-Link was 94 per cent through these months of high production! Now is the time to order money-making Sex-Sal-Link layer chicks for your flock. A meeting of the Lomond Ladies' Curling Club was held on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 7, at the curling rink where after some discussion,

It was decided to hold an open ladies' bonspiel on March 6, 7 and 8, weather permitting. Fee was set at $6.00 per rink and invitations are to be sent out this week. The closed bonspiel is to be held this Friday and Saturday.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the family and friends of the late Rasmus Auestad, who died very suddenly of a heart attack while on a business trip to Vauxhall on Wednesday of last week.

WATCH THOSE SCREENINGS

Every grain grower is faced with the problem of proper disposal of screenings. Because most of us realize that screenings, if not properly handled, can become a serious source of weed infestation, we try to prevent their scattering. Unfortunately there are still those who, through carelessness, are allowing screenings to seed in fields, feed-lots and along roadsides. This is dangerous. It often starts a new weed which may eventually become an economic problem says W. Lobay, Alberta Supervisor of Soils and Weed Control.

It is not uncommon to see uncleaned grain hauled in open trucks. The grain lost by this practice would soon pay for a trap and there would be no weeds seeded. Screenings are occasionally fed to livestock in the field where they are scattered by wind, animals and other agencies. It is illegal to feed screenings unless they are fed in an enclosed feedlot approved by a weed inspector.

Every precaution should be taken to prevent screenings from scattering. See your district agriculturist or field supervisor and discuss the problem with him. Start weed control now, advises Mr. Lobay.

How research saved Sherry Anderson's life

SHERRY ANDERSON was born a "blue baby". She had four defects in her heart which robbed her blood of the oxygen it needed. Her parents knew about the "blue baby" operation, but they also knew it had not always been beneficial.

Sherry was particularly fortunate because medical research had just developed a very efficient Heart Pump. This "pump" actually does the work of the heart during an operation, allowing surgeons time to make complete repairs.

Medical research is also striving to discover the various causes of heart disease, with the ultimate hope of preventing it. This valuable work is being correlated and stimulated by the National Heart Foundation of Canada.

Because the life insurance companies in Canada believe in the Heart Foundation, they have given it strong financial support. This is just one of many ways in which these companies help to create a healthier, happier life for Canadians.

Of Many Things

By Ambrose Hills

About two months ago my wife and I brood settled in at our summer cottage and I began bawling it. "Ah," said my impish friends, rolling their eyes, "you'll be having a time, won't you?"

Two months have gone by. Twice I sat up until half past two playing an innocent card game with the boys, cussing myself the next drowsy day for such nonsense. But, after all, when the wife's away a fellow must play, or else he's accused of brutally murdering tradition.

Last night I went to work with broom duster and vacuum cleaner, and to my eyes the place looks pretty shiny; but I know, when the family troops in, all sorts of lint and stuff will suddenly place itself on the rug and furniture just to make me look punk.

This weekend, they'll be home. Gone will be the quiet in which I had dreamed (two months ago) of accomplishing great things — some meditation, a bit of writing, a chance to think. Now, when I go to the typewriter, the twins will be looking over my shoulder to say, "Whatcha doin' Daddy?" and when I shave, Kathy will be there to ask the same question. Or when I settle down to plan an article or column, my wife will call out, "Coffee's made. Will you join me?"

Yes, the place will be loaded with distractions, thank the good Lord!

Distractions? I'm ready for them! I'm so fed up with silence I could yell. And if you think those are pork and beans coming out of my ears, you are right, ma'am — that's what they are. I still can't figure out why I never got around to cooking up those fabulous steak dinners I had promised myself. There are other things I can't figure out, either.

How come my wife always gets so much prettier when we've been separated for a spell? And what happens to those five wild Indians of ours to make them become such beautiful, charming, pleasant children? A summer in the country sure changes my family — or maybe it's me?

Excuse me. (No, twins, daddy isn't playing. This is a typewriter, and I'm trying to get some work done. I think I hear your mummy calling you. Yes, darn it, I am typing — can't you see I'm typing? Now run along, and daddy will be able to finish this and buy you something at the store IF YOU'LL JUST GET OUT OF HERE NOW AND LET ME WORK!)

Yes, as I say, there is a long winter ahead of us, but next summer, when the family goes to the lake, I'm going to get a lot of writing done and cook myself some mighty fine meals and really have myself a time.

Because it is impossible to predict the exact size of a fallout when an H-bomb is dropped, knowledge of all protective measures that can be taken is most important. Civil Defence can provide that information.

Electric Range Performance Plus Skill Add Up to Delightful Meals

In the golden days of the Old West, when men were men and cooks were cooks, the Indians could always tell a tenderfoot from a real woodman by the size of his campfire.

From a distance of 10 or 15 miles, they could spot a tenderfoot by the gigantic flames licking up from the bonfire. A real hand at camp cookery would know better: his fire would be small and concentrated, barely visible, almost smokeless and with the heat coming from a few white-hot coals instead of an inferno of flames.

If old Sitting Bull walked into a suburban kitchen today he could still tell a tenderfoot housewife from a real cook by the size of her "indoor campfire."

REGIONAL DRAMA WINNER

three years the Medicine Hat group topped the Alberta Festival, and this time Director Allegoth and two members of his cast also won individual awards for their work. They will be invited to be accompanied by a $1,000 cash award. The adjudicator was English-born actor-producer Richard Ainley, and the presentation was made by Charles Pinnell, Calgary, Calvert representative.

portable and console models, combinations, hi-fidelity sets, stereophonic sound units, tape recorders, portable and living room TV sets and on hand were the dealers and representatives to answer the many questions and inquiries. Many persons were surprised at the variety and top name brand appliance products which are available here in Vulcan. Dealers taking part with displays were Vulcan Electric, Wilson Electronics, Wolfe's Hardware, MacDonald's Electric, Vulcan Supply Co., M. R. Morrison Ltd., Simpson-Sears, the Electric Service League of Alberta, and a display of a Hammond chord organ and a Hammond Spinnet, by Mrs. N. Budd. Mrs. Budd entertained with organ music during intermission.

Opening the evening show was a demonstration of the progress in recording machines and radios from the early spindle-type record players to the newest in stereophonic sound. Next the Electric Service League of Alberta representatives showed narrated films of the dangers of inadequate house wiring and the need for constant checking of homes.

A very pleasant change much enjoyed by all was the singing contribution of two Vulcan school choirs under the direction of Mrs. R. Jamison and Mrs. D. Paris.

Highlighting the evening was the demonstration of micro-wave cooking on the stage by Mrs. Darling. The possibilities of this revolutionary type of range were forcefully shown as the home economist fried bacon, baked apples, prepared hot dogs, baked muffins and other foods and passed them out to the crowd in the half hour she appeared.

Throughout the two shows many valuable appliance prizes were given away. In those up for competition Mrs. Harry Connolly won a frying pan for the best casserole recipe. The Webber family of Milo figured in two other prizes. Tom B. Webber won a new toaster for having the oldest toaster on display while his wife accepted an electric iron for having travelled the furthest distance to the show. Mr. Webber's sister, Mrs. W. B. McIntyre, won a steam iron for having the oldest iron. The oldest electric light bulb was presented by Mrs. J. Marshall who won an electric fry pan. Mrs. Duckmanton won a prize for entering the oldest coffee pot.
